

The Nature Conservancy / Don't Move Firewood: dontmovefirewood.org

The dontmovefirewood.org website was dated and difficult for users to search and find items in a database of resources. This website gave us the opportunity to design something a little more fun with interesting illustrations and more color than your typical website. We reorganized their resources and database of invasive species and presented it in a more visually appealing, Pinterest-style, page of resources. We also created a map of firewood resources by state. Overall, we made this website much more visually appealing and friendly both for desktop and mobile devices.
