Creating a unique website for Think Tank Team (TTT), part of Samsung Research America, was a fascinating experience for our UPQODE team. We particularly loved designing a stunning Project page.

TTT is a group of interdisciplinary researchers, scientists, designers, who are passionate about inventing experience-centric and futuristic products and technologies. TTT has developed a number of outstanding projects: Farming platform producing fresh vegetables in the kitchen; a new generation of heart rate and stress monitoring algorithms; the first circular smartwatch; the world's first true 3D omniview camera, as well as the first wearable band-based camera.

CLIENT'S NEED

THINK TANK TEAM needed an impressive, bright and intuitive website with a well-structured interface. A special requirement was to develop a creative homepage with different teasers. As an ambitious research project, TTT wished to offer to its visitors a modern and spectacular works exhibition. The THINK TANK TEAM's digital platform aimed at getting more visibility and showcasing its futuristic projects.

OUR DIGITAL SOLUTION

Our UPQODE developers and designers' team has developed a creative landing page with 7 beautiful teasers that visitors can explore on-scroll. As a result, we've got a cool and stylish website with simple and intuitive navigation. TTT website is fully responsive. We designed responsive works' images inside a box. On the Project page, we integrated a GIF image and a video inside a box, which auto-plays on mouse hover. For better user experience, a smooth transition from page to page is featured. On a creative Team page, each member profile is powered with a GIF, which auto-plays on mouse hover. Cool hover effects on Work page will make you love this website even more.

THE RESULT

TTT is totally satisfied with the website powered by UPQODE designers and coders. The launch of the new digital platform allows to scientific project to entirely present its exceptional works to website visitors and to get more visibility.

Amazing work & highly recommended. Valentin and his team are the most professional WordPress Agency I have worked together with. Definitely planning for future work. I am very confident with everything. Theres no point I can criticize. I see Valentin and his team are doing way better work than all other Agencies I have already contracted.
