

MaxAd Brand, Identity and Website

For medium-sized businesses, who have the budget to engage with agencies and advertise across mainstream and digital media there are very few boutique agencies, aside from the large global multinational media giants, expertly and effectively tying all advertising channels together.

MaxAd is a fledgling advertising agency looking to fill that void, and establish itself in a highly competitive market.

Our team developed a clean, fresh and modern identity and a slick, fast and responsive website for MaxAd reflective of their approach.
