Meet Scott

Family

Scott has been married to his college sweetheart, Karen, for 34 years. They have lived in Roseville most of their lives and have raised their family here. Karen runs Lilliput Children's Services, a major foster-adoption agency with offices throughout California, but headquartered locally.

The Alvord's have seven wonderful adult children. Some were family relatives they raised and adopted, and some were by birth. Regardless of how they entered the family, they are a close-knit family. Scott and Karen are extremely proud of their children, who are all contributing to society. Five of the children are now wonderful parents themselves. At this point, Scott and Karen have ten grandchildren.
