1 NOTICE OF MOTION AND MOTION FOR SANCTIONS

2 TO ALL PARTIES AND THEIR ATTORNEYS OF RECORD:

3 PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that on October 1, 2026, at 2 p.m., or as soon as counsel may be 4 heard, before the Honorable Araceli Martínez-Olguín, in Courtroom 5 located on the 2nd Floor at 5 1301 Clay Street, Oakland, CA 94612, Plaintiff/Counterdefendant WPEngine, Inc. (“WPE”) will,
6 and hereby does, move this Court, pursuant to Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 37(e) and the 7 Court’s inherent authority, to sanction Automattic, Inc. (“Automattic”) and Matthew Charles
8 Mullenweg (“Mullenweg,” and together with Automattic, “Defendants”) as set forth below. WPE’s
9 Motion is based on this Notice of Motion, the supporting Memorandum of Points and Authorities,
10 the Declaration of Gregory A. Fuoco and exhibits attached thereto, the materials on file in this
11 action, and such other written or oral argument as may be presented at or before the time this motion
12 is heard and/or taken under submission by the Court.

13 STATEMENT OF RELIEF SOUGHT

14 WPE seeks the following relief:

15 1) WPE requests a Court order deeming it conclusively established that Mr. Mullenweg
16 used WhatsApp, Signal, and Telegram for case-relevant communications from July 2024 through 17 March 16, 2026, and that certain of such communications have been destroyed or are no longer 18 available.

19 2) WPE requests the Court issue mandatory adverse inference instructions, instructing
20 the jury that it must presume the destroyed or unavailable WhatsApp, Signal and Telegram messages
21 contained evidence that: (a) Mr. Mullenweg acted with the intent to interfere with WPE’s customer
22 and prospective-customer relationships when he directed the campaign to induce WPE’s customers
23 to leave; (b) Mr. Mullenweg knew his public statements about WPE were false or made them with 24 reckless disregard for their truth; and (c) Mr. Mullenweg acted with the intent to extort WPE and to 25 cause intentional damage in making the September 2024 demand and seizing the ACF plugin.

26 3) WPE requests a Court order precluding Mr. Mullenweg from testifying about the 27 substance of his WhatsApp, Signal and Telegram communications regarding WPE, his subjective
28 state of mind during the September 2024 events, and his subjective basis for the trademark

1 enforcement actions—except as established by produced documents.

2 4) WPE requests the Court dismiss Counterclaims 1 through 7 under the Court’s
3 inherent authority. In the alternative, WPE asks the Court to instruct the jury that it must presume
4 the destroyed or unavailable WhatsApp, Signal and Telegram messages would have shown
5 Defendants knew WPE’s use of the trademarks at issue was permissible and that Defendants’
6 September 2024 enforcement demand was a pretext for financial coercion rather than a good-faith
7 trademark-protection effort.

8 5) WPE requests that the Court award WPE the attorneys’ fees and costs it has incurred
9 in connection with this motion, its prior motion to compel, and the many months of meet-and-confer
10 efforts WPE was forced to undertake to uncover Defendants’ spoliation. Should the Court grant 11 WPE’s request for its fees and costs, WPE is prepared to submit a declaration tabulating and 12 demonstrating the reasonableness of its fees and costs.

13 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

14 I. PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

15 WPE brings this motion for sanctions against Automattic Inc. and Matthew Mullenweg
16 (“Defendants”) based on their failure to preserve, and their destruction of, critical evidence
17 regarding their misconduct underlying WPE’s claims. After Defendants demanded a ransom of tens
18 of millions of dollars from WPE in September 2024, Matthew Mullenweg—Automattic’s CEO,
19 who personally controls wordpress.org—launched what he called an “all out nuclear war” on WPE,
20 defaming it publicly, interfering with its customer relationships, and blocking it from wordpress.org.
21 WPE’s claims turn in substantial part on what Mr. Mullenweg communicated during that 22 campaign—to customers, competitors, employees, allies, and journalists. So do Defendants’ own
23 trademark counterclaims, which rest on Mr. Mullenweg’s intent and conduct in demanding that 24 WPE pay for a purported trademark license.

25 The most direct record of those communications was the evidence on Mr. Mullenweg’s
26 personal devices and accounts—his iPhone and the WhatsApp, Signal and Telegram applications
27 he used throughout the relevant period—and Defendants failed to preserve it. Defendants’ own
28 privilege log states they anticipated litigation at least as early as July 19, 2024, and WPE sent

1 Defendants a document preservation demand on September 23, 2024 specifically identifying
2 Mullenweg's mobile messaging platforms. Nevertheless, by the account of [REDACTED]
3 [REDACTED] Mr. Mullenweg's [REDACTED]
4 after Defendants' preservation obligation attached. [REDACTED]
5 [REDACTED]
6 [REDACTED]
7 [REDACTED] during
8 which Mr. Mullenweg's disappearing or deleted messages were lost forever.

9 Defendants' spoliation is even more egregious given their efforts to conceal it. While Mr.
10 Mullenweg's communications sat unpreserved, Defendants repeatedly assured WPE—and this
11 Court—that those communications “have been preserved”; yet [REDACTED]
12 [REDACTED] Between November 2024 and June 2025, WPE
13 sent six letters flagging specific preservation failures and identifying the very platforms at issue here
14 as preservation targets; each reassurance Defendants gave in response is now contradicted by their 15 own evidence.

16 Defendants' conduct, and subsequent coverup, is inexcusable and Defendants must be held 17 to the consequences of their bad acts. This Court should exercise its authority under Rule 37(e) and 18 its inherent powers to sanction Defendants. WPE respectfully requests that the Court: (i) deem 19 established that Mr. Mullenweg used WhatsApp, Signal, and Telegram for case-relevant
20 communications from July 2024 through March 16, 2026; (ii) find that Defendants spoliated
21 relevant evidence with intent to deprive WPE of its use; (iii) issue content-specific adverse 22 inferences on the issues for which the lost evidence is uniquely probative; (iv) preclude Mr.
23 Mullenweg from testifying on subjects for which the case-relevant communications are unavailable;
24 and (v) award WPE its fees and costs. As to Defendants' trademark counterclaims, WPE requests
25 that the Court (vi) dismiss Counterclaims 1 through 7 under its inherent authority; or, alternatively,
26 (vii) issue a mandatory adverse inference that Mr. Mullenweg knew WPE's use of the trademarks
27 at issue was permissible and that Defendants' September 2024 enforcement demand was a pretext 28 for financial coercion.

II. BACKGROUND OF DEFENDANTS' SPOILIATION

A. Defendants' Duty to Preserve Arose No Later Than July 2024, When They Hired Litigation Counsel

Defendants' privilege log confirms that their duty to preserve evidence arose no later than July 2024, when they engaged outside litigation counsel regarding a potential dispute with WPE. On July 19, 2024, that counsel circulated a draft cease-and-desist letter directed to WPE for Defendants' consideration. (Fuoco Decl., Ex. 23 (excerpt from Defendants' Amended Privilege Log #005).) One month later, [REDACTED] (Id., Ex. 19 (A8C00706126) at -27.)

B. Defendants' Attacks Precipitated WPE's Lawsuit in October 2024.

In mid-September 2024, Defendants launched their self-proclaimed nuclear war against WPE. (Dkt. 233 (Third Amended Complaint) ¶¶ 92-98, 102.) On September 17 and 19, 2024, Automattic's CFO Mark Davies told a WPE board member that Automattic would "go to war" if WPE refused its demand for a percentage of WPE's gross revenues. (Dkt. 21 (Oct. 17, 2024 Brunner Decl.) ¶ 23.) On September 20, 2024, Mr. Mullenweg used his WordCamp US keynote to defame WPE. (Fuoco Decl., Ex. 17 (Mullenweg May 14, 2026 Am. Resps. & Objs. to Pl.'s Second Set RFAs) Nos. 103-04; Dkt. 18-28 (transcript of Mr. Mullenweg's Sept. 20, 2024 Keynote Address) at 4, 8, 10-11; Dkt. 20 (Oct. 17, 2024 Teichman Decl.) ¶¶ 9-20.)

Throughout this period, Mr. Mullenweg actively steered communications about WPE into channels designed to leave no record. For instance, on September 21, 2024, Mr. Mullenweg publicly directed members of the public to contact him about WPE using ephemeral messaging: "[f]or the people sending me stuff from inside companies, please do not do it on your work device. Use a personal phone, Signal with disappearing messages, etc. I have a bunch of journalists happy to connect you with as well." (Fuoco Decl., Ex. 15 (X.com Post) (excerpt from Mullenweg Dep. Ex. 55) at A8C00014547.)

On September 23, 2024, WPE sent Defendants a cease-and-desist letter demanding that Defendants stop their misconduct, and making a document preservation demand. (Dkt. 18-29 (Sept. 23, 2024 Cease-and-Desist Letter) at 8-9.) Defendants responded just hours later with their own

1 cease-and-desist letter to WPE, accusing WPE of infringing their trademarks and threatening
 2 litigation if their demands were not met. (Dkt. 233-1 (Defendants’ Sept. 23, 2024 Cease-and-Desist
 3 Letter) at 1-4.) Defendants continued to disparage and defame WPE, and announced that they would
 4 be “go[ing] brick by brick and . . . tak[ing] every one of [WPE’s] customers.” (Fuoco Decl., Ex. 16
 5 (Mullenweg May 21, 2026 Second Am. Resps. & Objs. to Pl.’s First Set RFAs) No. 52; see also Ex.
 6 17 (Mullenweg May 14, 2026 Am. Resps. & Objs. to Pl.’s Second Set RFAs) No. 105; Dkt. 18-6
 7 (Sept. 21, 2024 Article); Dkt. 18-7 (Sept. 25, 2024 Article).)

8 On September 24, 2024, Defendants persisted in their attacks, blocking WPE from the 9 wordpress.org API, and on October 12, 2024 they hijacked WPE’s popular ACF plugin, replacing
 10 it with their own SCF plugin and redirecting WPE’s ACF customers to SCF. (Fuoco Decl., Ex. 20 11 (ACF User Review titled “FORCED change from ACF to SCF??? Scummy Business Practice from 12 WordPress”), at WPE00611723-24.) At that point, WPE had no choice but to initiate litigation, and 13 filed its Complaint against Defendants on October 4, 2024. (Dkt. 1.)

14 C. Defendants Assured WPE That Evidence Was Being Preserved Even as 15 Relevant Materials Continued to Disappear.

16 Once litigation commenced, a series of deleted social media posts alerted WPE to the fact
 17 that Defendants were not honoring their preservation obligations. Those incidents, described below,
 18 ultimately led WPE to uncover the conduct at the center of this motion: Mr. Mullenweg’s intentional 19 use of ephemeral messaging to communicate outside the reach of discovery.

20 Specifically, on November 5, 2024, WPE wrote to Defendants identifying three specific 21 deletion incidents WPE had become aware of through public sources: (1) X.com posts deleted at 22 Automattic’s instruction; (2) a deleted wordpress.org X.com post regarding WPE; and (3) deleted
 23 ACF plugin reviews on wordpress.org. (Id., Ex. 1 (Nov. 5, 2024 Letter).) WPE demanded
 24 confirmation that Defendants would “immediately cease deleting or destroying potentially relevant
 25 evidence” and disclose the “full extent of Defendants’ deletion and/or destruction of relevant 26 documents.” (Id. at 4.) Defendants responded on November 15, 2024, asserting that the 27 wordpress.org X.com post “has not in fact been destroyed” and that ACF plugin reviews had been 28 preserved by the WordPress revisions feature, which Defendants represented “ensures the

1 preservation of any changes made to any of its webpages over time.” (Id., Ex. 2 (Nov. 15, 2024
2 Letter) at 1.)

3 On January 8, 2025, WPE wrote again after it had learned that, on December 11, 2024, Mr.
4 Mullenweg had requested that his account on the Post Status Slack workspace be deleted, with his
5 screen name changed to “gone.” (Id., Ex. 3 (Jan. 8, 2025 Letter) at 1-2.) To address its concerns
6 about this additional evidentiary destruction, WPE asked Defendants to respond to seven specific 7 preservation questions, including whether “Mr. Mullenweg has been instructed and/or reminded of 8 his preservation obligations” and whether Defendants had “secure[d] a full and complete copy of 9 all of Mr. Mullenweg’s data associated with the Post Status Slack channel.” (Id. at 2-3.) WPE’s
10 letter also requested confirmation of preservation across “all other Slack channels, social media,
11 blogs, all of Mr. Mullenweg’s email addresses, and any other source of potentially relevant
12 information accessible to Mr. Mullenweg.” (Id. at 3) On January 10, 2025, WPE sent a third letter
13 after learning that Mr. Mullenweg had deleted three additional X.com posts in the prior 48 hours,
14 including posts referencing his liability in this case, WPE, and WPE’s CEO. (Id., Ex. 4 (Jan. 10, 15 2025 Letter) at 1.) WPE asked whether Mr. Mullenweg “has been counseled about his duty to 16 preserve documents since receiving our letter dated January 8, 2025.” (Id. at 1.)

17 On February 4, 2025, WPE and Defendants participated in a meet-and-confer call. During 18 that call, Defendants represented that a litigation hold notice had been sent to all Automattic
19 employees, including Mr. Mullenweg, in October 2024. (Id., Ex. 5 (Feb. 14, 2025 Letter) at 3.) On 20 February 14, 2025, WPE memorialized the call in writing, reiterating that its deletion-related
21 concerns extended to ephemeral messaging. Citing Mr. Mullenweg’s September 21, 2024 X.com
22 post directing whistleblowers to use “Signal with disappearing messages” to communicate with him,
23 WPE warned that the use of ephemeral messaging was “a particular concern” and asked Defendants
24 to confirm “whether Mr. Mullenweg has disabled all auto-delete functions on each of the ephemeral
25 messaging platforms he uses, and if so, when.” (Id., Ex. 5 (Feb. 14, 2025 Letter) at 3.)

26 During a further February 24, 2025 call, Defendants’ counsel admitted: (i) they were “not 27 ‘aware’” whether any of Mr. Mullenweg’s messaging communications were being deleted by 28 default and “did not know whether any of the messaging systems used by Mr. Mullenweg default

1 to auto-delete”; (ii) they were “still investigating what other communications applications or 2 systems Mr. Mullenweg may use”; and (iii) they “were unable to tell [WPE] whether [they] have 3 preserved, or are able to preserve, communications from Mr. Mullenweg’s messaging systems such 4 as Signal, Telegram, and WhatsApp.” (Id., Ex. 6 (Mar. 6, 2025 Letter) at 1-2.) WPE specifically
 5 flagged the third-party auto-delete concern that this Court would later identify as legally significant:
 6 “communications on at least some of these platforms can be set to auto-delete messages by other
 7 individuals, including any member of a group chat, so that even if Mr. Mullenweg has not activated
 8 auto-delete settings, responsive messages could be automatically deleted.” (Id.; see Dkt. 272 at 2
 9 (“WPE’s claim is that Mr. Mullenweg solicited third parties to contact him via Signal with 10 disappearing messages—meaning that it may well have been third parties, and not Mr. Mullenweg, 11 who activated the ephemeral messaging function.”).)

12 Shortly after the February 24 meet-and-confer at which Defendants’ counsel had admitted
 13 they did not know whether ephemeral messaging had been preserved, Defendants wrote to WPE on 14 April 3, 2025: “For the avoidance of doubt, we have met (and will continue to meet) our obligation
 15 under the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure to take reasonable steps to ensure that relevant
 16 information is preserved.” (Fuoco Decl., Ex. 7 (Apr. 3, 2025 Letter) at 1.) As to ephemeral
 17 messaging, Defendants stated: “We have taken all reasonable steps to preserve relevant documents
 18 in this case, including with respect to Signal, Telegram, and WhatsApp.” (Id. at 3.) Defendants 19 further stated: “Mr. Mullenweg confirmed that he has not activated the auto-delete function on any 20 communications platform with auto-delete capability that he uses (WhatsApp, Telegram, 21 Signal)” (Id. at 2.) As discussed below, these representations were false.

22 D. Responding to WPE’s Motion to Compel, Defendants Made Misrepresentations
 23 to the Court About Preservation.

24 In October 2025, having not received Mr. Mullenweg’s missing ephemeral messaging
 25 platform communications, despite conferring with Defendants between February and September
 26 2025 without resolution, WPE moved to compel the production of Mr. Mullenweg’s ephemeral
 27 messages. In the resulting October 6, 2025 joint letter brief, WPE sought an order compelling
 28 production of all responsive WhatsApp, Signal, and Telegram communications and a sworn

1 declaration accounting for Mr. Mullenweg’s platform usage, preservation steps, and any deleted
 2 communications—on the grounds that, a year into discovery, he had produced nothing from 3 WhatsApp or Signal and only 16 Telegram messages and had directed third parties to contact him
 4 via “Signal with disappearing messages,” while counsel gave conflicting answers about whether his
 5 accounts had even been collected. (Dkt. 177 at 1-3.)

6 Opposing the motion, Defendants represented to the Court that “Mr. Mullenweg’s
 7 responsive Signal, Telegram, and WhatsApp communications have been preserved and either have 8 been (with respect to Telegram) or will be (with respect to Signal and WhatsApp) produced (to the 9 extent they are non-privileged).” (Id. at 3.) As discussed below, these representations were false.

10 Defendants then failed to produce the promised communications. On January 6, 2026, WPE
 11 wrote to demand Bates numbers for any messaging communications Defendants claimed to have 12 produced and, for any that Defendants could not produce, an explanation for why the documents
 13 were no longer available. (Fuoco Decl., Ex. 9 (Jan. 6, 2026 Letter from L. Brewer to H. Hogan) at 14 9.) On a January 20 call, Defendants promised to produce Mr. Mullenweg’s WhatsApp, Signal, and 15 additional Telegram messages within seven to ten days. (Fuoco Decl. ¶ 15; Dkt. 266-2 (Feb. 13, 16 2026 Email Chain from G. Fuoco to J. Levin) at 5.) Defendants produced none of it and ignored
 17 WPE’s follow-up requests of February 3, 11, and 13, 2026. (Dkt. 266-2 at 1-4.)

18 E. The Court Found WPE’s Preservation Allegations “Concerning” and Required
 19 a Sworn Declaration From Defendants.

20 On April 3, 2026, the Court ordered the parties to advise whether the October 6, 2025 joint 21 discovery letter remained live. (Dkt. 264.) On April 9, 2026, Defendants produced one Signal
 22 message exchange and no WhatsApp or Telegram messages—a production they represented
 23 “complete[d their] production from [Mr.] Mullenweg’s custodial files.” (Fuoco Decl. ¶ 16; Dkt.
 24 266-3 (Apr. 9, 2026 Email from B. Wallace to S. Jenkins) at 1). They then argued the next day that 25 this production “resolv[ed] the dispute” and proposed jointly advising the Court that the letter brief
 26 was moot. (Fuoco Decl., Ex. 10 (Apr. 10, 2026 Email from B. Wallace to G. Fuoco) at 1; see Dkt.
 27 266 at 1-2). WPE declined to withdraw its letter brief given the paucity of the production and WPE’s 28 ongoing concerns. In the resulting April 10, 2026 updated joint discovery letter, WPE renewed its

1 request for a sworn declaration accounting for Mr. Mullenweg’s use of, preservation of, and
2 deletions from each platform. (Dkt. 266 at 1-3.)

3 On April 28, 2026, the Court issued its order, finding that WPE had “plausibly contend[ed]”
4 that Mr. Mullenweg—“at least in his own capacity, and potentially as an officer and agent of 5 Automattic”—“deleted relevant documents or allowed such documents to be deleted after an 6 obligation to preserve was triggered,” and that those allegations “particularly when taken together,
7 [were] concerning.” (Dkt. 272 at 1.) The Court found Defendants’ response “unsatisfying” because 8 it cataloged the categories of documents Defendants did produce while “elid[ing]” what was 9 allegedly deleted or left unpreserved—“of course, in a case of alleged spoliation, what matters is 10 what was allegedly deleted or left unpreserved.” (Id.) The Court further identified Defendants’
11 parenthetical carve-out—that no one had accepted Mr. Mullenweg’s “public invitation (prior to this 12 lawsuit being filed) to contact him via Signal”—as “potentially a significant concession” that
13 Defendants could not vouch for preservation of Mr. Mullenweg’s communications. (Id. at 2.)

14 Finding that Mr. Mullenweg’s proposed declaration fell “short . . . of providing the 15 information that most interest[ed] the Court,” the Court ordered Defendants to provide a sworn 16 declaration “from Mr. Mullenweg and/or counsel or someone working at the direction of counsel, 17 as appropriate (depending on who possessed the relevant knowledge),” detailing the dates and extent
18 of his use of WhatsApp, Signal, and Telegram for case-relevant communications; the preservation 19 steps taken on each platform and when; whether auto-delete or disappearing-messages features were 20 enabled during the preservation period; the date ranges of any preserved and any deleted
21 communications on each platform; the preservation status of his X.com direct messages and any 22 Post Status Slack screenshots counsel claimed to have captured; and an explanation of what 23 happened with respect to the alleged disappearing Signal messages, the deleted X.com posts, the 24 deleted Slack channel, and the deleted wordpress.org plug-in reviews. (Id. at 2-3.) The Court
25 directed that the declaration(s) be produced before Mr. Mullenweg’s deposition, that any 26 unproduced responsive X.com direct messages and Post Status Slack screenshots be produced 27 promptly, and that Mr. Mullenweg be prepared to answer deposition questions about any such 28 declaration “on matters appropriately within his knowledge.” (Id. at 3.)

1 Defendants served Mr. Mullenweg's declaration on May 5, 2026, together with a declaration

26 III. LEGAL STANDARDS

27 A. The Duty to Preserve.

28 The duty to preserve evidence attaches “[a]s soon as a potential claim is identified.” Gay v.

1 Parsons, No. 16-CV-05998-CRB (PHK), 2024 WL 4224893, at *6 (N.D. Cal. Sept. 17, 2024)
 2 (internal quotations omitted). That duty “includes an obligation to identify, locate, and maintain,
 3 information that is relevant to specific, predictable, and identifiable litigation.” Radio City, Inc. v.
 4 Celestron Acquisition, LLC, No. 5:20-CV-03642-EJD, 2023 WL 5519324, at *4 (N.D. Cal. Aug.
 5 25, 2023) (internal quotations omitted).

6 B. Sanctions Under Rule 37(e).

7 Rule 37(e) provides that “[i]f electronically stored information that should have been 8 preserved . . . is lost because a party failed to take reasonable steps to preserve it, and it cannot be 9 restored or replaced through additional discovery,” the court, on finding prejudice, may “order
 10 measures no greater than necessary to cure the prejudice”; and on finding the party “acted with the 11 intent to deprive another party of the information’s use” may impose an adverse-inference 12 instruction or enter judgment against the culpable party. Fed. R. Civ. P. 37(e); see Porter v. City &
 13 Cnty. of San Francisco, No. 16-cv-03771-CW, 2018 WL 4215602, at *3 (N.D. Cal. Sept. 5, 2018).
 14 “Intent may be inferred if a party is on notice that documents were potentially relevant and fails to 15 take measures to preserve relevant evidence. . . .” Colonies Partners, L.P. v. Cnty. of San 16 Bernardino, No. 5:18-cv-00420-JGB, 2020 WL 1496444, at *9 (C.D. Cal. Feb. 27, 2020).
 17 Moreover, attorneys’ fees for the cost of a sanctions motion are an appropriate additional remedy
 18 under Rule 37(e)(1) even without a showing of bad faith. Aramark Mgmt., LLC v. Borgquist, No.
 19 8:18-cv-01888-JLS-KESx, 2021 WL 864067, at *22 (C.D. Cal. Jan. 27, 2021), recommendation
 20 adopted, 2021 WL 863746 (C.D. Cal. Mar. 8, 2021).

21 The Ninth Circuit has found prejudice when a party’s refusal to provide certain documents
 22 “forced [plaintiff] to rely on incomplete and spotty evidence” at trial. Anheuser-Busch, Inc. v.
 23 Natural Beverage Distributors, 69 F.3d 337, 354 (9th Cir. 1995). “To show prejudice resulting from 24 the spoliation . . . courts have held that a party must only come forward with plausible, concrete
 25 suggestions as to what [the destroyed] evidence might have been.” Fast v. GoDaddy.com LLC, 340
 26 F.R.D. 326, 339 (D. Ariz. 2022) (citations omitted, internal quotation marks omitted). “Prejudice 27 exists when spoliation prohibits a party from presenting evidence that is relevant to its underlying 28 case.” Paisley Park Enters., Inc. v. Boxill, 330 F.R.D. 226, 236 (D. Minn. 2019).

C. Sanctions Under the Court’s Inherent Authority.

Federal courts also have inherent authority to sanction discovery abuses and spoliation. Leon v. IDX Sys. Corp., 464 F.3d 951, 958 (9th Cir. 2006); accord Chambers v. NASCO, Inc., 501 U.S. 32, 45-46 (1991). Most courts apply a three-part test: “(1) that the party having control over the evidence had an obligation to preserve it at the time it was destroyed; (2) that the records were destroyed with a culpable state of mind; and (3) that the evidence was relevant to the party’s claim or defense.” Waters v. Kohl’s Dep’t Stores, Inc., No. 14-CV-00043-KAW, 2015 WL 1519657, at *2 (N.D. Cal. Apr. 2, 2015) (internal quotations omitted). For lost ESI, Rule 37(e) “forecloses reliance on inherent authority” to impose adverse-inference measures on any lesser showing than intent (Fed. R. Civ. P. 37(e) advisory committee’s note to 2015 amendment), and WPE accordingly rests its requested adverse inferences on Rule 37(e)(2). But the Rule governs only measures for the loss of ESI itself. It does not displace the Court’s inherent authority over litigation misconduct beyond that loss—here, Defendants’ repeated misrepresentations to WPE and to this Court that the lost communications were being preserved. Dismissal remains an appropriate inherent-authority sanction where “a party has engaged deliberately in deceptive practices that undermine the integrity of judicial proceedings.” Anheuser-Busch, 69 F.3d at 348 (citation omitted); accord Leon, 464 F.3d at 958.

IV. ARGUMENT

A. Defendants Spoliated Relevant Evidence.

The duty to preserve is undisputed. After it attached, Defendants failed to take reasonable steps—shown by [REDACTED] [REDACTED] The lost evidence cannot be restored: disappearing messages do not survive their disappearance; [REDACTED] [REDACTED] And the evidence is directly relevant to the central issues—intent in directing the customer-departure campaign, the pretextual nature of Defendants’ belated trademark enforcement, and the scope of Defendants’ redirection of WPE’s customers.

1 1. Defendants Had a Duty to Preserve.

2 The duty to preserve Mr. Mullenweg's communications attached no later than July 19, 2024,
3 when Defendants hired outside counsel and prepared a draft cease-and-desist letter directed at WPE,
4 and thus can be held to have reasonably anticipated litigation with WPE. (Fuoco Decl., Ex. 23
5 (excerpt from Defendants' Amended Privilege Log #005).)

6 2. Defendants Failed to Take Reasonable Steps to Preserve.

7 A party that anticipates litigation must take reasonable steps to preserve the relevant
8 evidence within its control—the core requirement of Rule 37(e). Defendants failed to do so with 9 respect to Mr. Mullenweg's ephemeral messaging communications. As detailed below, Defendants
10 failed to preserve Mr. Mullenweg's communications timely or completely, did not remediate [REDACTED]

11 [REDACTED], and [REDACTED].

12 First, by Defendants' own [REDACTED]

13 [REDACTED]
14 [REDACTED] (Fuoco Decl., Ex. 12 (Robins Decl.) ¶ 5.) [REDACTED]
15 [REDACTED] WPE sent five letters expressing concern about Defendants' preservation efforts. (Id., Exs.
16 1, 3-6.) Defendants nonetheless did not image the devices discussed at length in the correspondence,
17 including any WhatsApp, Signal or Telegram messages contained therein.

18 Second, when the [REDACTED]

19 [REDACTED] (Id., Ex. 12 (Robins Decl.) ¶ 5.) [REDACTED]

20 [REDACTED]
21 [REDACTED]
22 [REDACTED] Defendants then failed to take any steps to [REDACTED]

23 [REDACTED] (Id.) Defendants have no explanation for that [REDACTED]

24 [REDACTED] indeed, when Mr. Mullenweg was asked at deposition why [REDACTED]

25 [REDACTED] (Id., Ex. 14 (Mullenweg Dep. vol. 2) at 540:25-541:3.) The Robins

26 declaration [REDACTED] During the [REDACTED] of the unexplained [REDACTED]

27 [REDACTED], any WhatsApp and Signal messages that auto-deleted on Mr. Mullenweg's

28 phone, were deleted by counterparties, were deleted by Mr. Mullenweg himself, or otherwise

1 disappeared—a risk Defendants’ counsel acknowledged they could not rule out—were permanently
2 lost. (Id., Ex. 6 at 1-2.)

3 Third, Defendants failed to [REDACTED]
4 [REDACTED]
5 [REDACTED] (Id., Ex. 14 (Mullenweg Dep. Vol. 2) at 528:22-529:6.) Thus, Mr.
6 Mullenweg’s suggestion that [REDACTED] (id. at 7 531:23-532:4) [REDACTED] and Mr. Mullenweg admitted
8 that [REDACTED] (Id. at 530:3-4.)

9 Defendants’ conduct is unreasonable under Rule 37(e). They did not preserve or collect in a 10 timely or competent manner, did not remediate promptly, and did not tell WPE the truth about their 11 failures. In fact, Defendants affirmatively misrepresented their preservation efforts to WPE, and to 12 this Court.

13 3. The Lost Evidence Cannot Be Restored or Replaced.

14 By definition, deleted ephemeral messages cannot be recovered. (Id. at 530:3-4 [REDACTED]
15 [REDACTED]
16 [REDACTED]
17 [REDACTED] (id. at 542:24 [REDACTED]), let alone the twenty-month gap since preservation attached.
18 [REDACTED] (Id. at 529:1-6.) [REDACTED]
19 [REDACTED] (Id.) [REDACTED]
20 [REDACTED]
21 [REDACTED]
22 [REDACTED]

23 4. The Lost Evidence Is Highly Relevant to WPE’s Claims.

24 The lost evidence sits at the center of this litigation. Mr. Mullenweg used Signal, WhatsApp
25 and Telegram during the September 2024 events at the core of WPE’s complaint. Indeed, he publicly
26 directed whistleblowers on September 21, 2024 to reach him via “Signal with disappearing
27 messages.” (Id., Ex. 15 at A8C00014547.) These communications are the direct contemporaneous
28 record of Mr. Mullenweg’s conduct and state of mind during the period at the heart of nearly every claim and counterclaim. The interference claims turn on what he told customers, prospective customers, competitors, and third parties to induce departures; the defamation claims on what he told allies and journalists privately while attacking WPE publicly; the CFAA claims on his “intent to extort” (§ 1030(a)(7)) and intentional damage in seizing ACF (§ 1030(a)(5)); and the counterclaims and WPE’s equitable defenses on whether the September 2024 enforcement was bona fide or pretextual.

WPE need not prove the precise content of the lost communications. See Matthew Enter., Inc. v. Chrysler Grp. LLC, No. 13-CV-04236-BLF, 2016 WL 2957133, at *4 (N.D. Cal. May 23, 2016) (noting that the “key problem . . . with spoliation in general[] is that neither party can say with any certainty what the deleted communications would have shown”). Mr. Mullenweg does not dispute that [REDACTED] (Fuoco Decl., Ex. 11 ¶¶ 4-5.) Although he characterizes his use of these platforms [REDACTED] [REDACTED] the Court is not required to accept that self-serving assertion at face value. (Id.) The spoliation at issue is precisely what prevents WPE from testing it. Matthew Enter., 2016 WL 2957133, at *4.

B. Defendants’ Spoliation Has Prejudiced WPE.

WPE’s claims. WPE has been severely prejudiced by Defendants’ failures. WPE’s claims include allegations that Mr. Mullenweg coordinated the September 2024 keynote, the wordpress.org block, and the ACF plugin takeover with Automattic executives and others. The platforms most likely to contain that coordination evidence are precisely the ones Defendants failed to preserve.

The Robins declaration concedes that [REDACTED] [REDACTED] (Id., Ex. 12 ¶ 5.) [REDACTED] (Id.) WPE will never know the full extent of such messages touching on WPE that Mr. Mullenweg sent or received during those periods; [REDACTED] (Id., Ex. 14 (Mullenweg Dep. Vol. 2) at 542:20-543:5.)

Mr. Mullenweg communicated extensively on preserved channels during this same period— [REDACTED] [REDACTED] (id., Ex. 13 (A8C00753030) at -045)—and admits he simultaneously

1 [REDACTED] (Id., Ex. 11 (May 5, 2026
 2 Mullenweg Decl.) ¶ 5.) His suggestion that [REDACTED]
 3 [REDACTED]
 4 (Id., Ex. 14 (Mullenweg Dep. Vol. 2) at 529:1-6, 531:23-532:4.) And Mr. Mullenweg concedes [REDACTED]
 5 [REDACTED] (Id. at 530:3-4.)

6 Defendants’ counterclaims and WPE’s defenses. WPE’s unclean hands and trademark
 7 misuse defenses require that WPE show the September 2024 enforcement was pretextual—financial 8 coercion, not trademark protection. The existing record already supports that: the 8% figure was 9 reverse-engineered from what Mr. Mullenweg thought WPE could afford (Dkt. 46-2 (TechCrunch
 10 Disrupt 2024 Tr.) at 5); [REDACTED]
 11 (Fuoco Decl., Ex. 21 (Friedman Dep. Ex. 12) at A8C01401824-25); [REDACTED]
 12 [REDACTED] (id., Ex. 22 (Friedman Dep. Ex. 8) at 13 A8C00920902); [REDACTED] (id., Ex. 18
 14 (Friedman Dep.) at 165:6-12, 246:8-247:11). But Mr. Mullenweg’s spoliated communications are 15 the direct record of his real motive—what he told others about why he made the demand and how it
 16 was calibrated to WPE’s wallet. They are the communications WPE would have used to impeach
 17 his anticipated trial testimony that the demand was a bona fide trademark enforcement effort.

18 C. WPE Is Entitled To Preclusion Sanctions and Adverse Inference Instructions.

19 Given the serious nature of the misconduct at issue, WPE requests that the Court first find 20 that Defendants spoliated relevant evidence with the intent to deprive WPE of its use, and then 21 impose the preclusion sanctions, adverse-inference instructions, and other relief detailed below. The 22 sanctions are appropriate because: (1) Defendants intentionally failed to preserve evidence and 23 misrepresented their preservation status to WPE and the Court; (2) WPE has been severely 24 prejudiced because it has lost direct evidence, not available from any other source, that supports its 25 claims; and (3) the relief is narrowly tailored. Nursing Home Pension Fund v. Oracle Corp., 254
 26 F.R.D. 559, 563 (N.D. Cal. 2008).

1 1. Defendants Acted With the Intent to Deprive WPE of the Lost
 2 Evidence—and Then to Conceal Their Actions.

3 Rule 37(e)(2) authorizes a mandatory adverse inference instruction where a party “acted
 4 with the intent to deprive another party of the information’s use in the litigation.” Fed. R. Civ. P.
 5 37(e)(2). “Intent may be inferred if a party is on notice that documents were potentially relevant and 6 fails to take measures to preserve relevant evidence. . . .” Colonies Partners, 2020 WL 1496444, at 7 *9.

8 Defendants’ conduct establishes intent to deprive in five distinct respects.

9 First, the false representations that occurred on April 3, 2025. Defendants’ counsel told WPE
 10 in writing that “all reasonable steps” had been taken “including with respect to Signal, Telegram,
 11 and WhatsApp”—at a time when, by their own [REDACTED]
 12 [REDACTED] (Fuoco Decl., Ex. 7 at 3; Ex. 12 ¶ 5.) In fact, by Defendants’ own
 13 [REDACTED] (Id., Ex. 12 ¶ 5.) The April 3
 14 representations were knowingly false, indicating Defendants intended to deprive. Burris v.
 15 JPMorgan Chase & Co., 566 F. Supp. 3d 995, 1018 (D. Ariz. 2021) (“Such duplicity is, again, 16 inconsistent with good faith but consistent with an intent to deprive”), aff’d, 21-16852, 2024 WL
 17 1672263 (9th Cir. Apr. 18, 2024).

18 Second, the false representations to WPE and this Court that occurred on October 6, 2025.
 19 Defendants told WPE and this Court in a joint letter brief that “Mr. Mullenweg’s responsive Signal, 20 Telegram, and WhatsApp communications have been preserved.” (Dkt. 177 at 3.) By that date,
 21 [REDACTED]
 22 [REDACTED]. Defendants had every opportunity, every day, to remediate, 23 and to truthfully disclose their preservation failures. They did not. Repeated representations of 24 preservation during periods of non-preservation establish intent. Burris, 566 F. Supp. 3d at 1017-25 18.

26 Third, the breadth of the pattern forecloses any innocent explanation. The April 3 and 27 October 6 representations were not isolated. Between November 2024 and June 2025, WPE sent at 28 least six letters flagging disappearing messages, deleted posts, and third-party auto-delete risks.

(Fuoco Decl., Exs. 1, 3-6, 8.) Defendants answered them with assurances that the evidence was preserved—assurances their own evidence now contradicts. Repeated and specific notice produced no preservation.

Mr. Mullenweg’s own conduct corroborates the institutional intent finding. On September 21, 2024, after the preservation obligation attached, Mr. Mullenweg publicly directed potential whistleblowers to contact him using ephemeral messaging: “[f]or the people sending me stuff from inside companies, please do not do it on your work device. Use a personal phone, Signal with disappearing messages, etc.” (Id., Ex. 15 (X.com Post) (excerpt from Mullenweg Dep. Ex. 55) at A8C00014547.) He admitted to deleting at least two X.com posts concerning WPE (id., Ex. 16 (Mullenweg May 21, 2026 Second Am. Resps. & Objs. to Pl.’s First Set RFAs) No. 5), deleting at least one Slack message referencing WPE (which he then reposted with additional content) (id., Ex. 16 (Mullenweg May 21, 2026 Second Am. Resps. & Objs. to Pl.’s First Set RFAs) No. 6), [REDACTED] (id., Ex. 11 (May 5, 2026 Mullenweg Decl.) ¶ 16). He then denied that his Signal and Telegram messages auto-deleted (id., Ex. 16 (Mullenweg May 21, 2026 Second Am. Resps. & Objs. to Pl.’s First Set RFAs) Nos. 3-4), only to concede that he [REDACTED] (id., Ex. 11 (May 5, 2026 Mullenweg Decl.) ¶ 6).

2. WPE’s Requested Sanctions Are Narrowly Tailored to the Loss and to the Asymmetry the Spoliation Created.

WPE’s requested sanctions are tailored to the spoliation and the prejudice it created. The lost evidence is the most probative source for testing Mr. Mullenweg’s state of mind during the September 2024 events and the testimony he must give to support Defendants’ trademark counterclaims—that Defendants genuinely viewed WPE’s mark use as infringing and that the September 2024 enforcement was good-faith trademark protection rather than the financial coercion the record suggests. Those propositions are testable only against his contemporaneous private communications—the same evidence bearing on WPE’s unclean-hands and trademark-misuse defenses. Without that record, Mr. Mullenweg can testify to whatever narrative the counterclaims

1 require while WPE is deprived of the impeachment evidence cross-examination depends on.

2 That asymmetry is exacerbated by Defendants’ sustained course of misrepresentations—
3 from November 2024 into April 2026—that the very communications now lost had been preserved.
4 By destroying those communications behind a wall of preservation assurances, Defendants have
5 given themselves an unfair advantage on their own affirmative claims and have impaired WPE’s
6 ability to defend against them—the precise prejudice Rule 37(e)(2) is designed to remedy.

7 First, WPE asks the Court to deem conclusively established that Mr. Mullenweg used
8 WhatsApp, Signal, and Telegram for case-relevant communications from July 2024 through March 9 16, 2026, and that certain of such communications have been destroyed or are no longer available.
10 Defendants repeatedly told WPE—and this Court—that those communications were being 11 preserved, despite their failure to do so.

12 Second, WPE asks the Court to issue mandatory adverse inferences tied to the issues for 13 which the lost evidence is uniquely probative. A generic “may presume unfavorable” instruction is 14 inadequate here because the categories of lost communications and the issues they would have 15 addressed are specifically identifiable. The jury should be instructed that it must presume the 16 destroyed or unavailable WhatsApp, Signal and Telegram messages contained evidence that: (a)
17 Mr. Mullenweg acted with the intent to interfere with WPE’s customer and prospective-customer
18 relationships when he directed the campaign to induce WPE’s customers to leave (relevant to WPE’s 19 interference claims); (b) Mr. Mullenweg knew his public statements about WPE were false or made 20 them with reckless disregard for their truth (relevant to WPE’s defamation claims); (c) Mr.
21 Mullenweg acted with the intent to extort WPE and to cause intentional damage in making the 22 September 2024 demand and seizing the ACF plugin (relevant to WPE’s CFAA claims). And in the 23 alternative to dismissal of Defendants’ counterclaims (addressed below), the jury should be 24 instructed that it must presume those communications would have shown that Mr. Mullenweg knew
25 WPE’s use of the trademarks at issue was permissible and that Defendants’ September 2024
26 enforcement demand was a pretext for financial coercion rather than a good-faith trademark-
27 protection effort (relevant to Defendants’ trademark counterclaims and WPE’s affirmative defenses
28 of unclean hands and trademark misuse). See Io Grp. Inc. v. GLBT Ltd., No. C-10-1282 MMC DMR, 2011 WL 4974337, at *8 (N.D. Cal. Oct. 19, 2011) (ordering adverse inference instructions based on the “categories of evidence that Defendants concede were destroyed”).

Third, WPE asks the Court to preclude Mr. Mullenweg from testifying about the substance of his WhatsApp, Signal and Telegram communications regarding WPE, his subjective state of mind during the September 2024 events, and his subjective basis for the trademark enforcement actions—except as established by produced documents. He cannot be permitted to offer self-serving testimony about the unavailable communications and a state of mind the evidence would have tested.

Fourth, as the primary remedy for the spoliation as it bears on Defendants’ trademark counterclaims, WPE asks the Court to dismiss Counterclaims 1 through 7 under the Court’s inherent authority. See Leon, 464 F.3d at 958-61 (affirming dismissal as spoliation sanction). Dismissal-level sanctions require consideration of the Anheuser-Busch factors: (1) the public’s interest in expeditious resolution; (2) the court’s need to manage its docket; (3) the risk of prejudice to the moving party; (4) the public policy favoring disposition on the merits; and (5) the availability of less drastic sanctions. Anheuser-Busch, 69 F.3d at 348. Each factor supports dismissal of the counterclaims here:

(1) Allowing Defendants to pursue counterclaims while having destroyed the contemporaneous evidence testing them prolongs the proceedings rather than expediting them.

(2) The alternative is a counterclaim trial in which the asymmetry created by Defendants’ spoliation cannot be cured by any evidentiary remedy short of dismissal.

(3) The prejudice to WPE is severe: WPE must defend against affirmative claims whose evidentiary record was deliberately incomplete on Defendants’ side.

(4) The policy favoring merits disposition is itself undermined when one side destroys the evidence necessary to test the merits.

(5) Less drastic sanctions are inadequate to cure the spoliation as it bears on the counterclaims. Even with adverse inferences and testimony preclusion, Defendants would still be entitled to prosecute affirmative claims supported by a documentary record they themselves curated by failing to preserve contemporaneous evidence that WPE would otherwise have used to test those claims. The fundamental fairness problem cannot be cured by any remedy short of dismissal.

Issue sanctions, content-specific adverse inferences, evidentiary preclusion of testimony, and dismissal of affirmative claims in these circumstances are all well within this Court's authority. See Leon, 464 F.3d at 958-61 (dismissal); Anheuser-Busch, 69 F.3d at 348 (dismissal); CrossFit, Inc. v. Nat'l Strength & Conditioning Ass'n, No. 14cv1191 JLS, 2017 WL 2298473, at *6-7 (S.D. Cal. May 26, 2017) (issue sanctions and adverse inference); Inland Concrete Enters., Inc. v. Kraft Am. LP, CV 10-1776-VBF(OPX), 2011 WL 13209166, at *8 (C.D. Cal. Mar. 9, 2011) (precluding defendant from introducing contrary evidence); In re Napster, Inc. Copyright Litig., 462 F. Supp. 2d 1060, 1078 (N.D. Cal. 2006) (adverse inference); Glover v. BIC Corp., 6 F.3d 1318, 1329 (9th Cir. 1993) (adverse inference); Io Grp. Inc., 2011 WL 4974337, at *8 (adverse inference).

D. WPE Is Entitled To Its Attorneys' Fees.

In addition to the foregoing remedies, WPE is entitled to an award of attorneys' fees and costs it has incurred in connection with this motion, its prior motion to compel, and the many months of meet and confer efforts WPE was forced to undertake to uncover Defendants' spoliation in the face of Defendants' concealment of the same. "Monetary sanctions may be imposed where one party has wrongfully destroyed evidence," and a party is "entitled to an award of attorney fees that is reasonable in light of the degree of [] culpability." In re Napster, 462 F. Supp. 2d at 1078 (citations and emphasis omitted). Fee-shifting is available under Rule 37(e)(1) even without any showing of bad faith. Aramark, 2021 WL 864067, at *22 ("no requirement in Rule 37(e) or the Committee Notes that a court must make a finding of bad faith before imposing monetary sanctions"). Independently, the Court has inherent authority to shift fees for discovery abuse. Leon, 464 F.3d at 961.

WPE is prepared to submit a declaration tabulating and demonstrating the reasonableness of its fees and costs upon the Court granting this relief. See Jimenez v. Menzies Aviation Inc., No. 15-CV-02392-WHO, 2016 WL 3232793, at *6 (N.D. Cal. June 13, 2016).

V. CONCLUSION

Mr. Mullenweg's relevant communications during the most critical time period in this case were not preserved, and Defendants lied about it, both to WPE and to this Court. Defendants' actions have deprived WPE of critical evidence at the core of this litigation. WPE respectfully requests that

1 the Court grant this motion and award the relief set forth in the Notice of Motion and accompanying
2 Proposed Order.
